The mission of the OI Foundation is to improve the quality of life for those living with osteogenesis imperfecta through research, education, awareness and mutual support.

A Message From the President

Hi everyone,

My name is Cameron Penn. I became board president for the OI Foundation in July 2019 but this is the first opportunity I've had to speak to all of you. It's an honor to follow two stewards who effortlessly steered the foundation for several years. I'd like to thank Ken Gudek and Mark Birdwhistell for their selflessness, their remarkable consistency and their extraordinary dedication. But I would be selling their leadership just a bit short if I didn't recognize their families and especially their wives, Teresa Gudek and Martha Birdwhistell. While Ken and Mark were the faces of the board, peel back the curtain and you quickly realize their indelible impact wouldn't have been possible without incredible support.

As we begin to celebrate a half-century of the OIF's commitment to all the deserving members of our community, we're not only reflecting on our history, we're envisioning what's next for all of us. Given the current global uncertainty, it has become increasingly apparent that no year in the storied history of the OIF may have a greater, broader impact than 2020.

Right now, we're generously supporting the brightest minds and biggest hearts in research, we're expanding fundraising platforms and we're constantly improving our outreach, through social media and by adding more regional conferences in new cities all over the country. Grants have grown. Membership has grown. The number of researchers funded has grown, Corporate sponsorships for the national conference have grown. And the overall investment in our community has grown. In short, we're doing everything we can to invest even more in you.

But nothing we do exists in a vacuum. In this critical year, we're asking each of you to take an active part in the direction and future of the OI community, starting with our pivotal PCOR Project. Patient Centered Outcomes Research is designed with every member of the OI community in mind and it's directed by Dr. Laura Tosi, our CEO Tracy Hart and our steering committee leads, Michelle Duprey and Mark Birdwhistell. The goals of the OIF PCOR Project are simple: 1.) We want to create an environment where you can better understand treatment options; and maybe most importantly, 2.) We want to empower each and every one of you with a bigger, more influential role in your own care.

To make this dream a reality, we not only want your voice, we need to hear from you. Share your story with us, share your thoughts and opinions. The quickest and easiest way is to join the OIF Registry. Go to oif.org/PCOR. It only takes a few minutes. You can also follow us on Facebook and Instagram @OIFoundation.

In return, we'll make this promise to you: we'll do the exact same thing. The information you share with us is invaluable to our researchers and medical professionals. And when they make discoveries, when new trends appear—you will be the first to know. We know research can sometimes seem like a black hole: you share your vital, personal information and no one ever explains why, how or if it helps. We're changing all that, and we're changing it quickly.

So, as the 50th Anniversary of the OIF gets in full swing, I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to each of you for your continued support of each other. You never cease to amaze us. We on the board also owe a sizable debt of gratitude to our entire OIF staff, our researchers and medical professionals, fundraisers big and small, and everyone else who supports our mission in countless ways.

As we begin to navigate this rest of this unpredictable year and rapidly-changing world, I want each of you to know that we will continue our unbroken commitment to each of you.

Warmest regards,

Cameron Penn
OIF Board President

Awareness and Education

In September 2019, the OI Foundation launched its newly redesigned website which allows users to more easily access and share information. As the only voluntary national health organization dedicated to supporting families living with OI, it is our goal to provide information in an easily accessible format for OI community members, medical professionals, and caregivers. The OIF website receives an average of 27,000 unique visitors each month.

With the help of OI community members across the nation, National OI Awareness Week 2019 was officially proclaimed in 16 states across the United States and the OI Foundation's #SHAREforAWARENESS posts reached over 200,000 people on Facebook. Throughout the week, more than 60 OI community members created Facebook fundraisers to raise more than $9,000 in support of the OI Foundation. The next National OI Awareness Week will take place May 2-9, 2020. National OI Awareness Week is scheduled annually around Wishbone Day (May 6th) – the international day for OI awareness.

OIF Annual Scientific Meeting

On April 10-12, 2019, the OI Foundation gathered over 77 researchers, clinicians, and medical professionals at the 19th Annual OIF Science Meeting in Chicago, IL. Co-chaired by Dr. Joan Marini and Dr. Cathleen Raggio, this important meeting hosted speakers and attendees from the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the Brittle Bone Disorders Consortium (BBDC) sites, and many other centers and labs from across the continent. Speakers presented data on topics ranging from the Effect of Rapamycin on Bone Mass and Strength in Amish Mice to an Update on treatment of adults with OI. The OI Foundation thanks Dr. Marini and Dr. Raggio for their outstanding work as meeting co-chairs, and the speakers and participants for making this a productive meeting. The OI Foundation especially thanks the Buchbinder Family Foundation who makes the Annual OIF Science Meeting possible every year.

Rare Bone Disease Meetings

The OIF successfully co-sponsored a Rare Bone Disease Working Group meeting at the American Society of Bone and Mineral Research (ASBMR) annual meeting in September 2019. The meeting gathered more than 200 scientists and medical professionals. The meeting was chaired by Dr. Laura Tosi, a member of the OIF's Medical Advisory Council, and included topics such as Management Pearls to Enhance the Care of Patients with Rare Bone Diseases, New Disease Models, and Clinical Trial Updates.

Regional Conferences

Since its launch in 2015, the OIF's Regional Conference program, Uniting Unbreakable Spirits, has reached more than 1,100 members of the OI community, half of whom had never attended an OI event before. In 2019, the OIF hosted a record four regional conferences in Chicago, Illinois; Atlanta, Georgia; Sacramento, California; and Wilmington, Delaware.

OIF Regional Conference on August 10, 2019 in Sacramento, CA.

NIH Brittle Bone Disorders Consortium (BBDC)

The OIF is pleased to announce that the BBDC has been funded for an additional five years! For the past five years the BBDC has been funded as part of the National Institutes of Health's Rare Diseases Clinical Research Network. The goal of the initiative is to better understand all genetic forms of OI, expand treatment options and train the next generation of physicians and scientists to study OI. As the lead patient advocacy organization partner, the OIF will expand on the outreach to medical professionals and constituents through the various online learning portals housed on the OIF's website as well as continue to provide opportunities for scientists and OI researchers to connect and collaborate.

Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Award

In the Spring of 2019, the OIF was approved for a two-year funding award through the Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Awards program, an initiative of the Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI). PCORI is an independent, nonprofit organization authorized by Congress in 2010 to fund comparative effectiveness research that will provide patients, their caregivers, and clinicians with the evidence needed to make better-informed health and healthcare decisions. The goal of patient-centered outcomes research (PCOR) for OI is to provide doctors and care providers with information that is relevant to the needs of the OI community. This allows clinicians to provide better care and empowers the OI community to advocate for themselves. Until recently, OI research has been focused on fractures, but the characteristics of OI go beyond bone and includes ear, lungs, eye, and heart problems. PCOR filled this gap in, addressing the needs of the OI community that have previously gone unheard.

Rare Bone Disease TeleECHO Clinic Series

Starting in the summer of 2019, the OIF, in collaboration with the Rare Bone Disease Alliance and OIF Medical Advisory Council member Dr. Laura Tosi of Children's National Hospital, helped launch the inaugural Rare Bone Disease TeleECHO Clinic Series. ECHO (Extension for Community Healthcare Outcomes) is a digital medical education program that increases a physician's access to expert knowledge to help them improve their quality of care.

The Rare Bone Disease TeleECHO Clinic Series helps to spread knowledge of rare bone conditions like OI to physicians and medical practitioners through monthly video tele-mentoring sessions. By increasing access to expert medical knowledge for physicians in this cutting edge and cost-effective model, the OIF can help increase the standard of care for people with rare bone conditions.

Impact Grants

In partnership with the Children's Brittle Bone Foundation, the Jeanie Coleman Impact Grant program was designed and established to provide funding for items that will significantly improve the quality of life for a person who has OI and who has limited financial resources. In 2019, the OIF was able to fund more than $100,000 of items and services for 24 families. The 2019 grants covered a range of items including hearing aids, a wheelchair, outdoor ramp for access to a home and travel expenses for surgery.

OIF National Information Center

The Foundation provides medically verified information related to OI. Topics range from medical issues such as genetics, diagnosis, and treatments to daily living strategies such as school and employment. Educational materials are available in print and electronically through the OIF website. This past year, OIF staff responded to more than 11,000 direct inquiries for information. OIF also sponsors a network of support groups across the United States. Support group activities provide opportunities for mutual support and increased community awareness. Currently, there are 38 active groups in 32 states.

The OIF continues to improve its web-based information center, www.oif.org/informationcenter, which covers information about OI and issues that affect children and adults, as well as provides online resources for providers who see few OI patients. The site is also host to the OIF podcasts (24 to date) on a variety of topics including; spine issues and basilar invagination in OI; dental; surgical interventions; pregnancy and OI; hearing loss and OI; mental health and the OI patient; treatment options for adults and children; and an overview of the diagnosis and treatment of OI.

Social Networking

The OI Foundation manages three official social networking sites: the OIF Facebook Page – followed by 12,390 Facebook users; the OI Foundation Twitter page (@OIFoundation) - followed by 2,528 Twitter users, and the OIF Instagram page (@oifoundation) – followed by 656 Instagram users. The OIF Forum page, a Facebook group with 10,247 members, is for OI community members to ask questions, share information and experiences, and connect with other OI community members.

International Collaborations

The OIF had the opportunity to be a part of an international meeting on quality of life in November of 2019. The Quality of Life 4 OI Conference held in Amsterdam and coordinated by Care4BrittleBones, was a conference designed to examine ways to measure quality of life in all areas of OI research and care and to improve outcomes for people with OI. The conference was supported by the OIF and included speakers and session leaders from our Medical Advisory Council. OIF CEO Tracy Hart led a session with her colleagues Patricia Osbourne, from the Brittle Bone Society in the UK, and Ingunn Westerheim, President of the OIFE on patient engagement and empowerment across borders. Also this year, the OIF continued promoting the multi-language OIFE Passport, which serves as a handy communication support for individuals affected by OI who are traveling internationally or living abroad. This pamphlet contains the statement that the bearer has OI, a brief explanation of what that means and how a person with OI should be treated in emergency situations – in 22 languages! And lastly, the OIF is helping to plan the OI International Meeting in Sheffield, UK in September 2020.

OIF Patient-led Listening Session at the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA)

In September 2019, the OIF brought together a group of ten OI parents, adults and medical professionals for a patient-led listening session at the FDA. The objectives of the session were to discuss with the FDA the impactful symptoms of OI, the experience of living with OI, as well as the impacts that current treatments have on daily life. The discussion also covered the importance of including endpoints other than fracture in future research. Staff members from several FDA divisions attended the meeting, including; the Office of the Commissioner, Center for Drug Evaluation and Research and the Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research.

Thank you Sharon Mutnick, Dr. Kara Ayers, Erin and Fisher Ortiz, Jessica Finkel Minor, Michael Stewart, Carolyn Tipton and Dr. Laura Tosi for participating on the OIF's panel during a Listening Session about osteogenesis imperfecta at the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

New Events

During 2019, the OI Foundation held seven Fine Wines Strong Bones galas, three golf tournaments and the new Medics on the March event. These volunteer led events are critical to funding the programs and resources of the Foundation. Money raised from these fundraising events will help the OI Foundation provide scholarships to the OIF National Conference, create new resources, and fund new research. In 2020, we are looking forward to the return of the OIF's National Unbreakable Spirit® Walk-n-Wheel to kick-off the National Conference weekend! During fall 2020, the OIF will host its second annual Medics on the March event, where 15 of the OIF's medical experts will walk 50 miles to raise awareness for OI. This year's walk will begin in downtown Washington DC and follow the historic C & O Canal Towpath into Maryland. You can follow their progress on www.oif.org/campaign/medicsonthemarch and the OIF's Facebook page!

The OIF's first Medics on the March gathered 15 doctors and researchers who walked 50 miles to raise awareness about osteogenesis imperfecta.
